

PASSENGER RAIL IN FORT WAYNE

WHO IS NIPRA?

The Northern Indiana Passenger Rail Association, NIPRA, along with their partners are dedicated to bringing back passenger rail to the Midwest. This system will connect Fort Wayne to other major cities like Chicago.

WHY IS PASSENGER RAIL IMPORTANT?

Passenger rail offers the accessibility to move about however one may want to in an efficient manner. Not only does it offer a mode of travel for those who may not be able to drive for multiple reasons, but it also offers environmental and economic benefits.

WHAT DOES THIS MEAN FOR FORT WAYNE?

Improving and adding onto the passenger rail within Fort Wayne will allow for people to have a choice within how they travel, one which may be more beneficial for their lifestyle compared to the already existing options. It may offer a less expensive and potentially more convenient alternative to individual vehicles.

“I think that not only will this be a great opportunity for bringing more jobs to the area, but it also be a clear benefit to the environment”
- Fort Wayne resident

MIDWEST CONNECT

The Midwest plan connects multiple major cities like Chicago, Pittsburgh, Columbus, Nashville and more to Fort Wayne. This map shows all of the cities that will be connected throughout the Midwest.

